THE PROCESSING OF PERSONAL DATA PERTAINING TO STATUTORY PENSION INSURANCE

The EU General Data Protection Regulation (hereinafter GDPR) requires that you be given information about the way in which Elo Mutual Pension Insurance Company (hereinafter Elo) processes your personal data in connection with your employment pension insurance matters.

Why is your personal data being processed by Elo?

We need to process your personal data in order to resolve employment pension matters for you. The processing of personal data is based on Finnish law and the EU General Data Protection Regulation. If Elo is unable to request information, we cannot resolve your matter. Any personal data that is gathered for the purpose of resolving your pension insurance matter is also utilised for statistics and research.

The handling of pension insurance matters is prescribed by law, which means that the processing of personal data cannot be refused. You do not have the right to request the removal of personal data necessary for the handling of your pension insurance matter or the transfer of information concerning you to systems outside of Elo. Nor can you restrict the processing of your information, even though you may contest the accuracy of some of that information.

Elo's right to acquire and disclose your personal data

By virtue of the law, Elo has the right to acquire information from the necessary parties and to disclose information to any necessary parties in order to resolve any of your pension insurance matter. Your personal data is processed to facilitate the smooth handling of your pension insurance matters. If the processing of your personal data or the disclosure of information is not based on legal provisions, you will be requested to grant your consent. You can withdraw your consent at any time.

In connection with the processing of your pension insurance matter, Elo may contact, among others, your employer, different authorities or other insurance institutions. If necessary and by virtue of the GDPR and the social security agreements between individual states, we can transfer your information to EU/EEA countries, Switzerland and areas outside of the EU.

You have the right to review your personal data

You have the right to review any information concerning you that has been stored in Elo's registers. This enables you to be sure that any stored information concerning you is accurate. You can request the rectification of inaccurate information, if the correction of such information is appropriate for the resolution of your matter. If necessary, you can also receive a copy of any personal data that we have stored in our registers. A request concerning personal data and the receipt of a response to that request are generally free of charge.

If your request cannot be met, you will receive notification thereof, including the grounds for refusal, from Elo no later than one month from the submission of your request. This time limit can be extended by two months. If you are dissatisfied with our solution to an issue concerning your personal data, you have the right to submit a complaint to the relevant supervisory authority.

Storage of your personal data

The information that is necessary for the handling of your pension insurance matter will be stored for a set time period that is prescribed by law. The duration of the time period is generally equivalent to the lifetime of the insured person plus five years thereafter.

Automated processing

By virtue of the law, Elo has the right to make automated decisions. In automated processing, a pension insurance matter may be resolved through the issuing of an automatic decision based on information collected from different sources. Cases involving work disability or rehabilitation matters or other medical issues are not processed in a completely automated manner, because the preparation of such cases at the pension institution and Kela always involve the input of a licensed physician.

Elo as controller

Elo is the controller for the register and has an assigned data protection officer.
